

Award-winning Online CE for the AEC Industry and Beyond

Does your staff training solution include the industry-specific content you need? Now is the time to help meet a critical requirement and build a stronger team with quality, affordable online training that benefits your entire organization. RedVector delivers award-winning online education for the AEC industry and beyond, with over a thousand interactive and highly engaging courses accredited by more than 60 state and national organizations.

Robust Online Course Library

500+ courses written by top industry experts:

- Green building/sustainable design
- LEED accreditation and exam prep
- Construction safety training
- ADA 2010 and building codes
- Engineering: civil, structural, electrical & more
- Architecture and interior design

Plus hundreds of courses for non-licensed professionals:

- Leadership and management
- Compliance and ethics
- Computer software skills
- Project management
- Health and wellness

Exclusive Built-in License & Accreditation Search Tool

- Simple and straightforward online search tool
- Links courses/course packages to the state, profession, and professional organizations where they're approved

Continually Updated Content with New Courses Monthly

- Meets current board regulations
- Keeps pace with industry changes
- Ensures compliance with the latest CE requirements
- Features innovative audio and visual design elements
- Seamlessly integrates courses into your existing learning platform

Contact Your Representative Today to Learn More!

